

RESOURCES FOR PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES

What is Benefits.gov?

As the official benefits website of the U.S. government, Benefits.gov is dedicated to connecting citizens in need to assistance programs. With information on over 1,000 government benefits, the program you're looking for could be just a few steps away.

How Can Benefits.gov Help You?

As a disabled person, you face unique circumstances and may qualify for resources that can help you lead a more independent life, including increased access to technology and assistance programs to help you with your finances.

What Can You Expect to Find?

Here are a few benefits for which you may be eligible:

The Job Accommodation Network (JAN) provides free, expert and confidential technical assistance to both employees and employers regarding workplace accommodations and disability employment issues.

Independent Living Services for Older Individuals Who Are Blind aims to support individuals 55 and older whose recent visual impairment makes competitive employment extremely difficult to obtain, but for whom independent life goals are feasible.

Supplemental Security Income (SSI) is a federally funded program that provides financial help to disabled adults and children who have limited income and assets.

Tax Help for People with Disabilities is another helpful program that provides tax relief for disabled taxpayers.

Begin Your Search

Start the Benefit Finder, a confidential questionnaire that will pre-screen your eligibility for government benefits. You will be able to view a list of benefits that you may be eligible for based on how you respond.

Browse benefits by category and filter results by state, browse benefits by their federal managing agency, or use the search bar to help you find resources for your needs.

Visit Benefits.gov to find assistance for you and your family. An award-winning multi-agency partnership managed by the U.S. Department of Labor.
