What is Benefits.gov?

As the official benefits website of the U.S. government, Benefits.gov is dedicated to connecting citizens in need to assistance programs. With information on over 1,000 government benefits, the program you're looking for could be just a few steps away.

How Can Benefits.gov Help You?

As a student, you face unique challenges and may qualify for assistance with your education, student loans, and aid applications among other benefit programs.

What Can You Expect to Find?

Here are a few benefits for which you may be eligible:

The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is an application used by virtually all two and four-year colleges, universities, and career schools for awarding Federal, state, and college-funded student aid.

The Scholarships for Disadvantaged Students program provides scholarships to full-time, financially needy students from disadvantaged backgrounds who are enrolled in health professions and nursing programs.

The Student Temporary Employment Program (STEP) provides students an opportunity to earn money and continue their education, to train with people who manage the day-to-day business of the federal government, and to combine your academic with on-the-job experience.

The Youth Education and Training Activities provides grants to state and local communities to operate a comprehensive array of youth services that help low income youth seeking assistance in achieving academic and employment success.

Begin Your Search

Start the Benefit Finder, a confidential questionnaire that will pre-screen your eligibility for government benefits. You will be able to view a list of benefits that you may be eligible for based on how you respond.

Browse benefits by category and filter results by state, browse benefits by their federal managing agency, or use the search bar to help you find resources for your needs.

Visit Benefits.gov to find assistance for you and your family. An award-winning multi-agency partnership managed by the U.S. Department of Labor.
